Briefs.

—Look out for a frost.
—Bower City band concert on the corn exchange this evening.

—County Clerk Morgan is visiting friends in Whitewater to-day.
—Janesville Chapter No. 5, R. A. M. will occupy Masonic hall this evening.

—The hook and ladder boys are progressing nicely with their running practice.

—The running team of the east side hose company will organize for practice this evening.

—Johnny Connors, formerly of this city, but now of Omaha, Nebraska, is on a brief visit to relatives and friends.

—The circuit court was engaged to-day trying divorce cases—Oakley against Oakley, and Hartshorn against Hartshorn.

—Julius Gelrke was fined one dollar and costs, five dollars and forty-two cents, in the municipal court to-day, all for abusing David Parker, a little six-year-old colored boy.

—Miss Christina Knippenberg, who has been on a visit to her parents in this city, returned to Dolan yesterday, to resume her studies in the asylum for the deaf and dumb.

—Parties who have paid their dog license will now rest easy, so long as the blood remains in the mare's eyes. There'll be music by the full band about the 11th of September.

—Mayor St. John has called a meeting of the fire department to be held on next Thursday evening, for the purpose of selecting a candidate for chief engineer vice Croft, resigned.

—Reports from Jefferson county state that a man is working that county, representing that he is closing out a bankrupt stock of a jewelry firm in this city. Better look out for him. There is no such firm located here.

—Mr. Thomas H. Austin, of Johnstown, has nearly recovered from the injuries he recently received by falling from a stack, and sends us word that he will be in town again in a very few days, which will be good news for his many friends.

—The funeral of the late P. A. Anderson will take place at the family rooms (West Milwaukee street, second story, stairway next to Davies' grocery), at half past one o'clock p. m. on Friday, Rev. W. F. Brown and Rev. C. E. Goldthorp officiating.

—Mr. George Osgood, of Tarrant & Osgood, has purchased the homestead of the late J. W. D. Parker, corner of Jackson and Holmes streets, fourth ward. The sale was made through the real estate agency of Messrs. Campbell & Stevens of this city.

—Don't forget to purchase reserved seats for the Mattie Vickers' performance on Saturday evening. The St. Louis Republican says of her: "Miss Vickers has an attractive stage presence, and shines all over with good humor and unaffected gaiety; she is graceful in movement, refined in manner, effective in all her work, and has a bright future before her."

—The funeral of the late Mrs. Thomas Byrne took place at her late residence on Chatham street, at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Horace Gates, rector of Trinity church, and were attended by a large number of sympathizing friends. The remains were interred in Oak Hill cemetery.

—John Keenan, who clerks in Mark Collin's grocery store on West Milwaukee street, was target shooting this morning, with a high rifle, and while trying to ring the bell, forgot to drop the third finger of his left hand out of the range. He fired the gun, and the ball, which was a 32 caliber, passed through the end of the finger, making a bad wound, but one which will mend readily.

—Wouldn't it be a good thing if the authorities would put down concrete walks in the public parks? The court house park is being raised by the numerous foot paths made across the grass plots, by pedestrians who refuse to walk on the coal-salt walks. In a short time this park, if allowed to remain in its present condition, will present anything but an inviting appearance.

—One of the most attractive paintings that has been on exhibition in this city, is now in the window of Heimstreet's drug store. It is a copy of a celebrated English painting, "Horses at the Trough". The coloring is very fine and reflects much credit on the artist, Mr. Leod Becker, of this city. Heimstreet has also in the window two tasty pieces of china work, one a tile by Miss Gertrude Cobb and a vase by Miss Charlotte Prichard, all three are pupils of Mrs. Hart, of this city.

—A one-armed beggar has been in the city for some weeks, begging his living, and spending what little change he could pick up for poor whisky. Yesterday he called at a house in the first ward, and when the lady of the house told him she would get him some bread and butter, he indignantly replied that he had eaten enough bread and butter; he wanted something else to eat. Better shut the door in his face—he is a worthless good-for-nothing fellow, undeserving of charity.

—This afternoon, about half past one o'clock a horse attached to a light platform wagon, shot through the alleyway past Todd's brewery, onto Milwaukee street. When the horse struck the flag pavement at the entrance of the alley, it reared and was thrown heels-over-head into the center of the street, but regaining its feet the horse drew into the side walk in front of Hemming & Son's shoe store, where the wagon struck a hitching post, breaking the post off close to the pavement, and turning the wagon over.

The horse next struck the telephone pole in front of Palmer & Stevens' drug store, which held the runaway until captured. The horse was badly cut and bruised about its legs, and the wagon was considerably damaged. The outfit belonged to Mr. Henry Parker, of Harmony, and

The Prize Drill.

The prize military drill which is to take place at the Winnebago county fair, Rockford, on September 12th, will be an event of great importance to our citizens, as the Janesville Guards will be present and contest for the prizes.

The following rule has been published in the Rockford papers: "Companies competing are required to have twenty-five men in drill, exclusive of guides and file-closers. Each company will be allowed twenty-five minutes to complete programme. No credit will be given for fancy movements, skirmish drill, or bayonet exercise. Companies will be allowed, if completing programme inside of twenty-five minutes, to give an exhibition drill. Drill to commence promptly at 1 o'clock, Wednesday, September 12, and all companies will report at that time. Drill programme will be handed commanding officer of company ten minutes before the bugle call for drill. Judges: Colonel U. M. Brazee, 3d Regiment I. N. G.; Major Elliott Durand, of Chicago; Assistant Inspector General Captain H. A. Smith."

True, you are in a miserable condition—you are weak, pale and nervous. You cannot sleep at night, nor enjoy your waking hours; yet, you lose heart? Get at the drug store a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters. They will restore you to health and peace of mind.

The Green County Soldier's Re-Union at Breadhead.
On Wednesday, September 5th, at a pleasant grove three-fourths of a mile east of the city of Breadhead, in Rock county, occurred one of the grandest reunions that ever occurred in this county. Fully five thousand persons were on the grounds. The preparations were well made, a large stand for the bands and speakers and eight tables fully 70 feet long spread out under the shade of the oaks, and covered with all the delicacies and substantial that the appetite could crave. The procession was formed on exchange square in the city and marched to the grounds where the exercises were held, led by four bands of music and the Monroe drum corps. The address of welcome was made by A. E. Bulson and the response by P. J. Clawson. After the business meeting and distribution of badges, dinner was called, and the loaded tables were quickly filled and still other hundreds stood around waiting for a chance to fill up. One tall granger cast his eye around with a sigh exclaimed, "There is ten thousand that haint et yet." Dinner, over the platform was again occupied by the bands and speakers, and some excellent music and speeches were made. After prayer by Rev. Mr. Wells, of Peotville, Colonel Calkins, the eloquent and genial editor of the Sunday Telegraph, made the principal address. Colonel Calkins was followed by Major Boynton, of Oshkosh, Major Rockwood and Colonel Virgin, of Plattville, and others. The Broadhead Glee club sang several patriotic songs in free style. The bands present were the Broadhead band, the Monroe band and drum corps, the Albany band, and the Spring Valley band, and they all did excellent work. Captain Lewis with a large number of his fine military company, the Monroe Guards, in uniforms was also present and added much to the embellishment of the occasion. Several editors were also present including Mr. Bennett, of the Mineral Point Times, Mr. Knight, of the Darlington Democrat, Mr. Booth, of the Monroe Sentinel, Mr. Wells, of the Evansville Enterprise, Mr. Bartlett, of the Albany Journal, and others. Colonel Virgin was there and met many of his old comrades whom he had not seen since the war, among them John Ryan, the Footville light weight (350 pounds) and Comrade Crail and others. A citizen was asked how many he thought there were on the grounds. He gazed around and replied: "I can't find no edge to 'em, they are scattered all through the bushes, there might be a heap on 'em." The camp fire material consisted of an immense brush heap gathered from the grounds. The programme was fully carried out.

CHAMOIS SKINS.
French oil-dressed chamois skins of superior quality at Prentice & Evenson's for fifty cents each. Fine bath sponges very cheap.

The Sequel.
He appeared at the kitchen door of a North Jackson street residence, without coat and a new pair of three-dollar and a half shoes on his feet; "he was an innocent looking stranger, about twenty-five years of age, and his appearance indicated that he was a granger." He addressed the lady of the house, who happened to respond to his loud raps at the kitchen door. He had been unfortunate on the train and had lost his coat, and only desired the loan of such a garment until he could reach his home in Beloit. The lady eyed him closely, and concluded that he had told her a truthful story. She remembered that her husband had an extra garment of that kind, and she told the meek looking man that she would give it to him. On receiving the coat, he politely remarked that he would return it as soon as he reached his home; but the kind lady, feeling considerable pity for the unfortunate, innocent looking man, told him that he needn't mind sending the coat back; that if it was of any use to him, he could keep it and he departed.

Threw Away His Crutches.
"Suffered from rheumatism so badly had to use crutches, but threw them away after applying Thomas' Electric Oil to my limbs. I now feel better than I have for years." P. L. Gibbs, 390 Elk street, Buffalo, N. Y.

A Clergyman's Testimony.
W. E. Gifford, pastor M. E. church, Bothwell, Ont., was for two years a sufferer with dyspepsia in its worst form until he stated the facts before an actual burden. Three bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters cured him and he tells us in a recent letter that he considers it the best family medicine now before the country for dyspepsia and liver complaint.

August Arrests.
During the month of August Marshal Hogan made twenty-six arrests, all appearing before the municipal court. The fees from these arrests, amounts to $42.14. By reference to Marshal Hogan's report we find the following causes given for the arrests:

False pretenses..... 1
Drunkness..... 20
House breaking..... 1
Vagrancy..... 1
Violating liquor ordinance..... 1
Violating street ordinance, fast driving..... 1

IMPORTANT.—An lady was disappointed the first time she used DeLand's Chemical Baking Powder. Her baking was yellow. The trouble was, she did not allow for the extra strength, which makes only about one-half the quantity necessary. She learned her mistake and now declares it to be the best she ever used.

Merric Club.
In 1879 a number of our young married people met for the purpose of amusement, which resulted in this formation of the Merric club, and twenty meetings were held to the satisfaction of all. In the fall of 1880, the second club was formed mostly of the old members, and to-morrow evening the members of all the old clubs will meet at Cannon's hall for a dance, and also if advisable, to form a club for this winter. This party will be for the old members only who are all invited—no visitors. Anderson's band will furnish the music and a general good time is expected. Every old member is expected to be present.

To Whom It May Concern.—G. A. Powers, formerly dealer in Wheeler & Wilson sewing machines, has been replaced by J. B. Hill. Installment accounts made for the payment of machines, are made to the Wheeler & Wilson manufacturing company. We have therefore taken these accounts and forbid anyone paying said Powers. If they do, the same will not be credited on their lease. Mr. Hill is authorized to do our collecting and can be found at Pember house.

WHEELER & WILSON, Manufacturing Company.

The Weather.
REPORTED BY PRENTICE & EVENSON, DRUGGISTS.
At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer registered 48 degrees above zero. Clear, with west wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 76 degrees above. Partly cloudy with southwest wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 50 and 75 degrees above zero.

New Music.
Oliver Ditson & Co., of Boston, send us a nice bundle of new music, of which the first song, "My dear old mother's voice," contains the above words. It is by O. W. Lane, costs 35 cents, has a chorus, and is a good, wholesome, home-like song. The seven other pieces in the same roll are worth trying. They are: "Rest thee now" (40 cents), song by C. E. Pratt; "The known alone to me" (30 cents), a German and English affair by Kiegg; "Marie Stuart Schottische" (30 cents), by Max Erling; "Clide Polks" (35 cents), by Charles Astin; "Vacation Dance" (30 cents), from "Buttercups and Daisies," by E. S. Clark; and "Ah, vous d'rai-je" (35 cents), a piece for violin and piano, by Ludovic.

Dr. Kishblatt will open his permanent medical dispensary in Janesville next month, October. His office he intends to have in the central part of the city, and he has taken a five years' lease of Mrs. P. Myers' mansion, for his private residence, expecting to buy it during that time. Due notice will appear on opening in his column advertisement. He treats chronic diseases as a specialty. Having been a professor in the Atlanta Ga., medical college, also editor of the New York Medical and Surgical Journal for many years, and has a vast experience in treating chronic diseases.

"Tell your Aunt Maria, baby's got the cramp." "N. K. Brown's Ess. Jamaica Ginger cures cramp."

A Grand Exhibit.

The Milwaukee Exposition opens to the public on Thursday, September 6th, with the finest exhibition of manufactures and works of art ever presented to the people of the Northwest.

The opening will be marked by appropriate exercises, and the attendance on that day promises to be very large. As a usual thing, Exhibitions of the magnitude of the Milwaukee enterprise are not complete the first day the doors are thrown open, but by unusual energy on the part of the management and a kindred spirit shown by exhibitors, the Milwaukee exposition will be complete in every detail on September 6th; the greater part of the exhibits being in place much earlier than ever before.

The interest manifested in the coming Exhibition is very great throughout the entire Northwest, and large numbers of visitors will doubtless visit the Cream City during September and October.

The exposition management feel secure in urging people to visit this exposition and view the many attractions to be seen within the beautiful building, which is rapidly filling with grand exhibits. There may be found that which will instruct as well as entertain; and the railroads selling excursion tickets, no better time of the year to visit Milwaukee could be selected. Concerts will be given three times each day; in the morning, Mr. J. L. Day will preside at the grand organ, which is promoted by all to be the first instrument in this country. Every afternoon and evening Bach's full military band will render choice programmes, and this, with the whirl of machinery, the brilliant electric lights, and tastefully arranged booths, viewed by throngs of delighted visitors, will present a scene of unusual splendor. Don't miss it.
